

... How I feel affects other people!!!

A tribute written through the eyes of female attorneys coming together to upgrade awareness. When we feel good about ourselves we do a better job of sharing with those around us.

THE JUST-US SYSTEM

Have we got that much imagination (or Fear)?
Of US living in a world of equals?

A world that affords you and I a level view of each playing field

No sudden turns... hidden agendas... coded quotas... or twists of fate...
Just you and I, WE

The people... upon whose backs this great country was nurtured, WE

The very people who give birth and support to mankind, embellishing its frailties, WE

Visionaries, Spirited Women and Networlders who get down to business above and beyond the nuts and bolts of He Said/She Said gender gaps to support one another

Have we got that much imagination (or Fear)?
Of US living in a world of equals?

Oh, but what fun we'd have...

Bud Lite... Ball games... and Beer Bellies...

One cocktail dress that requires only that we change the bow tie...

Locker room interviews from the waist up on a day where you did so well because you focused on playing through cramps, WE

The people whom God made to bring balance into this world.

Pinching butts... Begging... Believing "Honey, you were great!"

Being crowned the Queen of Machismo

My sisters, I think that I can wait.

Wait for God's truth to unfold

To understand that "inequality" is no more than a word.

For your 100% is not my 100%... Just like an alligator is not a bird.

And though I'd rather fly than lurk underwater I'm no better because I made it up here.

US in a JUST system means EVERYONE

And it starts with those who care.

And not only do we have that kind of imagination
It's something we don't fear.
