

... How I feel affects other people!!!

Blind Faith - I've used that term several times in describing my belief in myself, and my business. And I've had it said to me, "You don't know how many people you've helped..." etc. And I've humbly moved the conversation along....

Then I recognized that I could better share my gift by knowing and acknowledging my source. I don't seek to mock or discredit their comments. I seek to strengthen my spirit by "knowing" that I am doing the work created for me. How did you get where you are today? God is my source. As I help you, to Him goes the glory.

© 2001 StartingToday... Weekly Affirmations for Daily Living

IN FACT... I DO KNOW.

You think that because you can touch me
I don't know how I affect/impact the lives
Of those I touch.
Yet you tell me I touch you.

Therefore someone less powerful than my God
Has made an impression on your life
And painted the picture of how the impactful should act
(which impacts how they impact who they impact)...
And in that cycle,
No one gets credit for knowing how they impact...
Thus impacting no one.

So it's you who doesn't know how you affect/impact the lives
Of those you touch.
Yet it's you who has an influence on mine.

Because you can touch me

© 2002 I Found Out I'm Living: An Affirmation of LIFE

www.sportyking.com 708-805-9279 Sporty@sportyking.com